PATENT NO. : 7,027,300 B2

APPLICATION NO.: 10/663,868

ISSUE DATE : April 11, 2006

INVENTOR(S) : Charles Lord

It is certified that an error appears or errors appear in the above-identified patent and that said Letters Patent is hereby corrected as shown below:

4. A cooling system, comprising: a plenum formed of a thermally conductive material and having a base including a plurality of passageways adapted to pass air therethrough, the passageways being defined by a plurality of fins extending outwardly from the base; the plenum further comprising a receptacle adapted to receive a heat generating component, the receptacle also extending from the base at a location proximate, but remote from, the fins, the receptacle being adapted to thermally transfer heat from the received heat generating component to the fins wherein the base is comprised of a first electrically conductive portion and a second electrically non-conductive portion, further comprising a pair of said receptacles, each said receptacle being coupled --to -- the one of the first and the second respective portions; and a fan adapted to create air flow across the base and through the passageways.

Insert the word -- to -- in Claim 4, found in Column 6, line 29.
